Thematic research
What motivates your customers, your target audience, today and tomorrow.

Press releases of topical interest
You'll need your press release tomorrow?
No problem!

In regards to our entrusted projects, we have been researching topics and issues for the past 10 years. We make sure that all research is relevant for the according industries and target audiences.

Using these attention-grabbing topics as 'eye catchers', we write up press releases that are positively received and accepted by editorial offices, furthermore, they meet the current media-focus and interest.

Continuous personal and telephonic contact in connection with our feeling for future topics, allows us to write press releases at short notice, which will already be available for the press and media the following day, creating much interest amongst the general public.

Which topic is currently en-vogue?

How can we tie this in with an intelligent press release?

How does it lead our clients to success?

Answering these questions

is the starting point for our editorial team before the realisation of each press release, which we always create individually and based on excellent research.

We help you with these answers completely free of charge - and of course, we look forward to working with you!
